

Just another day behind the wheel can change your life ::

Rarely is anyone prepared for the impact of an unexpected accident. Yet, when it happens to you, it can be devastating physically, emotionally and financially. If you are injured in a motor vehicle or motorcycle accident the medical injuries, pain and suffering, and a limited understanding of the law can be overwhelming. You need someone to look out for your best interests — our team of professional personal injury lawyers is ready to stand up for your rights and is experienced at representing people just like you.

Don't wait to call.

An accident's impact goes far beyond hospital and doctor bills. It can also result in lost earnings, benefits and the ability to live as you once did. The best course of action is to consult with a personal injury lawyer as soon as an accident occurs to better understand your legal rights and what options are available to you. Insurance laws and regulations may have time limits for action; you could lose your rights by waiting.

You expected quality medical care... not negligence ::

When the death or disability of a loved one is underscored by the lack of proper medical care, then your burden becomes both emotional and monetary. Negligence by a medical professional can include an error in diagnosis, treatment or illness management. If that negligence results in injury to a patient, then a legal case for medical malpractice can be made against the doctor, hospital or the government agency that operates the hospital facility.

You never thought this would happen to your child ::

Assisting childbirth is one of the most challenging jobs in the medical profession. Often, however, the quality of care is inadequate, and the result is tragic. Cerebral Palsy or Erb's Palsy are often caused by physician or hospital error. There is nothing you could have done to prevent it. Now only you can determine how you deal with your child's future. If your child has been diagnosed with Cerebral Palsy or Erb's Palsy due to medical error, you or your child may be entitled to lifetime benefits.

It is obviously difficult for grieving family members to understand the importance of a timely investigation of the factors of the injury, preservation of evidence and identification of responsible parties. The potentially large compensation from a lawsuit is often necessary to cover the extensive medical bills that will accrue in the years to come.

This isn't how you thought it would be ::

Coming to terms with the loss of a loved one is a traumatic and painful experience that is made all the worse when their death was caused by the negligence of others. While taking legal action may be the last thing on survivors' minds, there are many reasons that an attorney should be consulted immediately when it is suspected that the death was due to negligence or misconduct. Critical evidence must be preserved and legal limitations must be considered. While nothing can ease the emotional loss of a loved one, financial awards can help answer the question: "How will we pay the bills and support our family?"

Just another day on the job can change your life ::

You show up for what you expect to be another day at work and in a split second, everything can change. Due to the hazardous nature of construction, it's no surprise that thousands of construction workers are killed or injured every year as a result of on-the-job accidents. While Worker's Compensation covers some of the losses, it often fails to cover the full extent. In many cases, you may also bring suit against third parties that are responsible for your accident.
